Nature Hide & Seek: Woods & Forests

Synopsis

Explore woods and forests in North America and Europe, full of meticulously rendered camouflaged creatures. Can you spot them? It's not that easy. Turn the page to find the answers. Possibly the best, most authentic, series on camouflage for young children, the Hide & Seek books include intricate die-cut gatefolds and a magnifying glass. John Norris Wood is a renowned wildlife artist who has exhibited at London's Royal Academy of Arts, Natural History Museum, and Victoria and Albert Museum. He lives on his own nature reserve in England with his boa constrictor.

Customer Reviews

My 5 year old loves I Spy and Search books. This one is great - tons of things to find, some easy and some very difficult. He loves to go back to it. One of his favorite books for over a year now.

This book was a birthday present for a child and it was a huge hit. Of course, I had to preview the book and I almost kept it for myself. The children (and adults) love to find the creatures and the educational text is wonderful.

This series is one of our favorites. I have Nature Hide & Seek Jungles, Woods & Forests, Oceans, Rivers & Lakes. I've been reading these with my 4-year-old for over a year now. They never get old.

used this in my school office and discovered some budding naturalists.
