He Has Shot The President!: April 14, 1865: The Day John Wilkes Booth Killed President Lincoln (Actual Times)

Synopsis

The headline that shocked the nation: President Lincoln Shot by Assassin John Wilkes Booth! One of the most exciting stories in American history told with full color illustrations. The fifth installment in Don Brown's Actual Times series featuring significant days in American history covers the Lincoln assassination and the ensuing manhunt. In He Has Shot the President! both Lincoln and Booth emerge as vivid characters, defined by the long and brutal Civil War, and set on a collision course toward tragedy. With his characteristic straightforward storytelling voice and dynamic water color illustration, Don Brown gives readers a chronological account of the events and also captures the emotion of the death of America's greatest president.

On the night of April 14, 1865, John Wilkes Booth shot and mortally wounded Abraham Lincoln, the 16th president of the United States. This graphic novel presents the events surrounding the death of the President, in a manner that is easy for younger readers to understand. The illustration work is quite good, and the author did a great job of boiling down the history of the events to a quick and easy to read narrative. I found this to be a very good book, one that is sure to entertain the young reader, even while he or she learns about what happened in those terrible days. I highly recommend it!

Perfect book to read aloud to my students as we commemorate the anniversary of President Lincoln's assassination.

Great Book!!! I learned a lot I did not know. Very well written.
